

Date of Disclosure:

This is the effective date of these disclosures.

Important: Why you should read this agreement

This is a legal document that outlines what we expect from you and what you can expect from us in relation to your loan. It is important that you read and understand what you are committing to financially. Talk it through with someone you can trust to give you good independent advice before you sign. This document should be read together with the terms and conditions, and the schedule of payments, which together form 'this agreement'. Terms defined in the terms and conditions have the same meanings where used in this document and the schedule of payments.

If more than one of you is named below, 'you' means each of you jointly and severally. That means that each of you is fully responsible for the loan, even if the other one doesn't contribute to payments or do other things required under this agreement.

Disclaimer about financial advice

You are protected by responsible lending laws. Because of these protections, any recommendations given to you about our loan products are not regulated financial advice. This means that duties and requirements imposed on people who give financial advice do not apply to these recommendations. This includes a duty to comply with a code of conduct and a requirement to be licensed.

How do you make payments?

You must pay at least the payment amount on each payment date described below and in the schedule of payments, until you have paid off the full unpaid balance under this agreement. Interest and a regular account fee are charged under this agreement and these are included in the payments described below and in the schedule of payments.

Your payment dates may change if the loan is not advanced on the date of disclosure. Your payment amounts may change if we change your variable annual interest rate or the account fee after the date of disclosure. If these or any other changes happen in accordance with this agreement, we will notify you as required by law.

You must also pay us immediately when due any other amount you owe us under this agreement at any time, for instance as a result of a default event. You must pay the unpaid balance in full on or before the final payment date.

We will provide you with a statement about your account at least once every 6 months.

Prepayments

You can pay off the unpaid balance under this agreement in full at any time, for no additional fee or charge – this is a full prepayment.

You can also make an extra payment at any time (in addition to your scheduled payments), for no additional fee or charge – this is a part prepayment. The amount of a part prepayment will not be credited to your account immediately but instead will be held and applied to your scheduled payments as they fall due. This means that the part prepayment will not reduce your interest costs.

How much interest will we charge you?

Your annual interest rate is a variable rate. This means we can vary the rate at any time (but we will only do so on reasonable grounds and in accordance with applicable law). We charge accrued interest to your account each week, fortnight or month (depending on your individual repayment frequency terms) in arrears, starting on the first payment date. If you do not pay any scheduled payment (that includes interest) when it is charged to your account, it will become part of your unpaid principal balance and an overdue amount on which default interest may be charged.

We calculate your interest by multiplying your average daily unpaid principal balance for either each week by your weekly interest rate or each fortnight by your fortnightly interest rate or each month by your monthly interest rate (depending on your individual repayment frequency terms). We calculate your weekly or fortnightly or monthly interest rate by dividing your annual interest rate by 52 or 26 or 12 respectively.

- Variable annual interest rate (as at the date of disclosure):
- Term of the agreement
- Total amount of interest payable under this agreement (calculated as at the date of disclosure):

Security Details

You give us a security interest in the secured assets (meaning the property listed below, all present and future attachments, accessories, replacements or spare-parts relating to that property, any property used to replace or substitute the property, and any proceeds of that property (or replacement or substituted property)) to secure the payment of any money now or at any time in the future owing by you to us under this agreement and the performance of all your other obligations to us under this agreement at any time. This means that this agreement is a secured loan. Our security interest must have first-ranking priority unless we have agreed otherwise.

This means that if you don't meet your obligations to us under this agreement, or you allow someone other than us to have security over the secured assets, or another default event occurs, we have rights as described in the terms and conditions (including the right to take (repossess) and sell the secured assets). Our security interest secures all of your obligations to us under this agreement. If we repossess and sell the secured assets but the net proceeds of the sale do not cover the full amount you owe us under this agreement, you may continue to owe us money.

What credit fees will you have to pay?

You will have to pay credit fees in connection with your loan (our current credit fees, not included in the initial unpaid balance above, are outlined below as at the date of disclosure). We may vary these fees at any time (but we will only do so on reasonable grounds and in accordance with applicable law). All credit fees are charged to your account at the time the relevant fee or charge is incurred. If you do not pay any credit fees when they are charged to your account, they will become part of your unpaid principal balance and an overdue amount on which default interest may be charged.

Account Fee

Charged to your account on each payment date while there is any unpaid balance under this agreement (to cover the costs of maintaining and administering your account).

Refinance Fee

Charged to your account if we are required to refinance this agreement (to cover the cost of processing and documenting the refinance).

What could happen if you don't keep to this agreement?

If you think you might have trouble making a payment, please talk to us before the payment is due. If you're experiencing hardship, or certain other circumstances, we may be able to help. You can also contact MoneyTalks on 0800 345 123 for budgeting advice and financial mentoring. This independent service is confidential and free of charge.

Default Interest

You must pay default interest charges if you don't make a payment on the date it is due. You must pay these charges until you've caught up with your payments. We calculate default interest every day on the amount you are overdue (excluding any amount that has become payable early because another default has happened under this agreement). We multiply that overdue amount by a daily default interest rate, which is the default interest rate (described below) divided by 365.

The default interest rate as at the date of disclosure is 5% per annum variable above the prevailing variable annual interest rate. We can vary the default interest rate at any time (but we will only do so on reasonable grounds and in accordance with applicable law).

We charge accrued default interest to your account monthly in arrears (on each monthly anniversary of the date we advanced the loan to you).

Default Fees

If you don't keep to this agreement or if another default event occurs, you may need to pay default fees (our current default fees are outlined below as at the date of disclosure). We may vary these fees and charges at any time (but we will only do so on reasonable grounds and in accordance with applicable law).

All default fees and charges are charged to your account at the time the relevant fee or charge is incurred. If you do not pay any default fees when they are charged to your account, they will become part of your unpaid principal balance and an overdue amount on which default interest may be charged.

Late Payment Fee

Charged to your account each time you are more than two days late in paying an amount that is due and on a weekly/fortnightly or monthly basis for the period while the amount is overdue (to cover the additional cost of administering your account while payments are overdue).

Payment Plan Late Fee

A reduced late fee charged to your account when you have a payment plan in place instead of the late fee described above. This fee is incurred each time you are more than two days late in paying an amount due under a payment plan (to cover the additional cost of administering your account when payments are overdue).

Door Knock Fee

$35.00

Charged to your account each time we are reasonably required to visit you to discuss an event of default (to cover the cost of the visit).

Other Repossession

Fees: locksmith, storage, disposal costs, repossession agents.

Actual Cost

Charged to your account when reasonably incurred as a result of a default event.

What do you need to do if you suffer unforeseen hardship?

To apply, you need to write to us explaining your situation and ask us to do one of the following:

- Extend the term of this agreement, and reduce the amount of each payment due under this agreement accordingly (without changing the interest rate)
- Give you longer to pay by postponing, during a specified period, the dates on which payments are due under this agreement (without changing the interest rate)
- Both of the above – postpone payments for a specified time and reduce the amount of your payments by extending the term.

- 9.2 However, you agree that we may (acting reasonably) decline to act if we receive contradictory communications from you.
- 10 Secured loans

- 11 Insurance
- 11.1 Unless we agree otherwise, you must keep any secured asset insured against all types of loss or damage that should sensibly be insured against, to its full insurable value, with a reputable insurer. Our interest as lender must be noted on the insurance certificate. You agree to show us evidence of that insurance if we ask to see it.
- 11.2 If you make a claim on a policy of insurance in respect of any secured asset, you must tell us immediately and whatever the insurance company pays you must be paid to us. We can use the money either to make good any damage to the secured asset, or to reduce your unpaid balance. If there is still any unpaid balance after we have used the insurance money, you will need to pay it to us.
- 12 Default events
- 12.1 A default event means that any of the following events happens:

 - h. a default event (however described) happens under any other agreement you have with us; or
 - i. you have committed or allowed an unlawful activity to occur with respect to any secured asset or otherwise in connection with this agreement.
- 12.2 If a default event occurs, we can:
- a. require immediate payment of all or part of your unpaid balance (and you must immediately pay us the amount required when you receive notice from us);
 - b. charge default interest and fees in accordance with this agreement;
 - d. repossess and sell any secured asset and otherwise enforce our security interest in any secured asset in accordance with this agreement; and/or
 - e. exercise any other rights available to us (which may include taking appropriate recovery action such as appointing a debt collection agency or suing for recovery of the unpaid balance). If you are a joint borrower, we can take action against you without taking action against the other borrower.
- 13 Default interest and default fees
- 13.1 The way in which default interest is calculated and charged to your account is explained in the loan agreement.
- 13.2 We can change a default interest rate (or how it is calculated or charged) at any time, but we will only do so on reasonable grounds and in accordance with applicable law. If we do, we'll notify you as required by law.
- 13.3 The loan agreement also explains the default fees and charges that may apply, and when these are charged to your account.
- 13.4 We can change the amount, frequency, time for payment or method of calculation of any default fees or charges or introduce new default fees or charges, but we will only do so on reasonable grounds and in accordance with applicable law. If we do, we'll notify you as required by law.
- 14 Repossessing secured assets
- 14.1 In addition to our rights if a default event has occurred, if at any time any secured asset is at risk (within the meaning of section 83E(2) of the CCCFA), we may take and keep possession of all or part of that secured asset.
- 14.2 We will follow the provisions of the CCCFA when taking and repossessing any secured asset.
- 14.3 You give us, our agents, and our representatives the right to enter any place where any secured asset may be held, and to search for, remove, and take possession of the secured asset. This includes when the occupier is not present. This right cannot be revoked, and lasts until the delivery of a final discharge of the relevant security interest in accordance with this agreement. We do not have to give you notice of our intention to enter. We can carry out these rights and (subject to applicable law) you are not allowed to claim against us for any consequential loss or damage.
- 15 Amendments and waivers
- 15.1 Except as expressly permitted elsewhere in this agreement, we will not at any time (without your prior agreement) change any term of this agreement.
- 15.2 We will give you notice of any change as required by law.
- 15.3 A waiver of any provision of this agreement is effective only if given in writing, and then only to the extent expressly stated.

 - iii. if sent by electronic message, on the second business day after sending, using the details specified in this agreement or otherwise given by the addressee.
- 16.2 Nothing in clause 16.1 above limits the time at which any disclosure is treated as having been made under and for the purposes of the CCCFA. For instance, under the CCCFA, disclosure may be treated as having been made when a statement is sent.
- 16.3 You consent to receiving:
- a. all notices, documents and communications relating to this agreement (including any disclosure that we are required to make under applicable law) electronically and you agree that (subject to applicable legal requirements) we may use any electronic message address specified by you for that purpose; and
 - b. your statements via a secure website that allows you to access your statements when we notify you that they are available or that allows you to access the relevant information at all reasonable times for any reasonable statement period you select.
- 16.4 We consent to receiving all notices, documents and communications relating to this agreement electronically and we agree that you may use the electronic message address specified by us in your loan agreement (or otherwise given by us) for that purpose.
- 17 Severability
- 17.1 The illegality, invalidity or unenforceability of any provision in this agreement will not affect the legality, validity or enforceability of another provision.

- 18.1 We can enforce our rights under this agreement even if we have not signed it.
